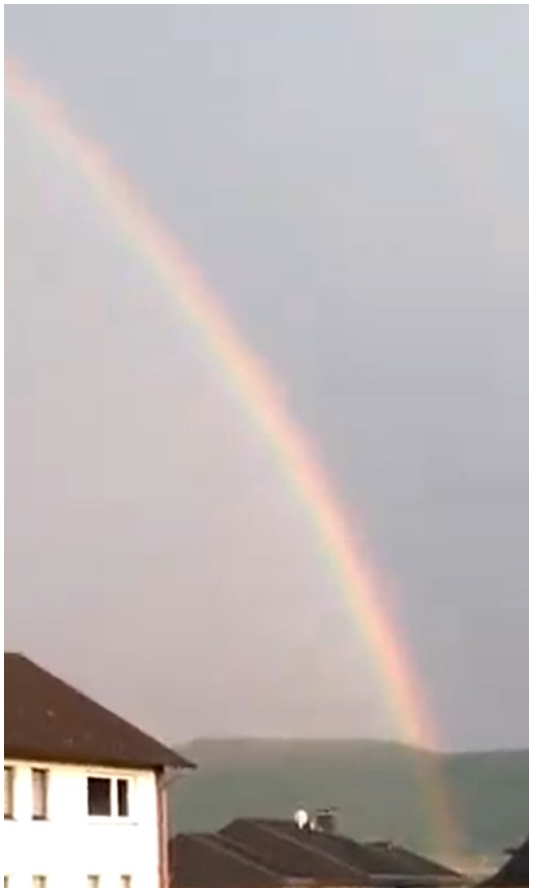
Content and Purpose

You´re interested in this guide, so you´re interested in SUCCESS, right?

So this manual will provide you with several tools to increase your chances of success.
It will give you basic data, derived from cosmic energies and principles, along with conclusions specifically derived from your own personality and your own environment, and it will explain on how to use all those charts. You will be able to take action immediately and every day, for 111 days at least (and you can opt to extend).

What´s the ingredients for success?
Have a look at this picture:



It´s some kind of success to capture a rainbow like this, right?
How to do it?

Be at the right place, be there at the right moment, look in the right direction, have the necessary tool ready, take the appropriate action.

So what´s involved in success:

Environment – Timing – Action.

And: Be prepared.
(And by the way: I did have a camera at hand to capture this rainbow, but I couldn´t capture it fully as the lens focal length was not wide enough – sad, as it was reaching from the earth on one side to the earth on the other side, which is quite rare to see. But I found a workaround even for that (and yes, no matter what, it´s always good to be creative), capturing this with a little video, which you may watch at my Facebook site: just click at the picture to follow the link, you don´t have to be registered at Facebook for that. Enjoy that it even was a double rainbow.)

And even to be prepared, often it´s very important to know up front, WHEN you should have finalized your preparations, so again it requires Action based upon Timing. Your suitcase should be ready before you jump into a taxi to start off a long journey, right?

So here´s what this manual will do for you:

Timing:

Use the power of Date Selection to choose the best timing available in a given time frame.
Use the Personal Calendar in this manual to find your Personal Best Days for any specific task.

Like this you can be prepared when good days, representing good opportunities for your success, come up. And then you can execute appropriate action at the right moment.

Environment:

Use the power of Feng Shui to choose the best space and direction available in your environment, for any kind of activity as well as for rest.
Use your Personal Best Directions as given in this manual.

Like this you get the best possible support from your environment for executing your activities.
And even more: You can specifically energize your environment to send out energetic messages to the world to attract opportunities to materialize your success.

Action:

Well, that´s up to you. And it´s up to you to study this manual, learn the basics, then apply the recommendations.

Please accept my apologies that this can not be a long essay introducing all the concepts of Astrology, Date Selection and Feng Shui. So, it will be to your advantage, if you do have some basic knowledge already. But even without it, you should be able to just take the advice given here, implement it, and benefit from it. And you might learn quite a bit in several ways, staying useful for you for a lifetime.

I´ve taken ingredients from many trainings with various grandmasters, from personal experience and research, and from feedback from clients over many years, to blend it all into an integrated and easy-to-use approach (see my background at the end). I´m using my own software to make it possible at a price, which is really cheap in view of the wealth of knowledge I´m passing on to you, the more so as it´s not just theoretical knowledge but really personalized and actionable.

You may already have experienced for yourself, that
- at certain places you sleep better than at others,
- at certain places your work is much more effortless and efficient than at others,
- at certain times you feel much better and can achieve much more than at others.

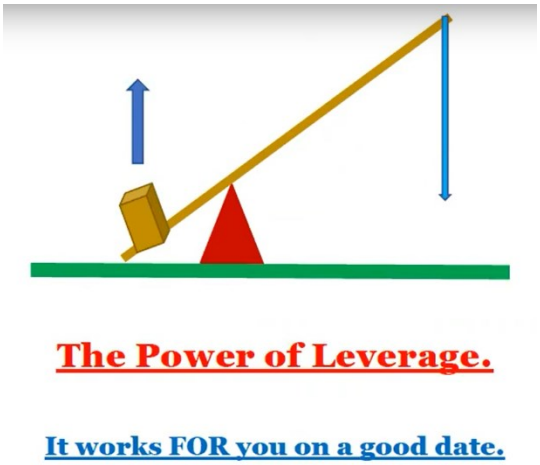
So with the guidelines presented here, I´m going to help you in not leaving it to chance, but optimizing all this to your advantage.

And just to mention before going on: The meaning of "successful" is up to you to define. Could be success in your work environment, could be success in financial terms, could be success in good relationships with family and friends, could be success in achieving and maintaining excellent health. Whatever it means, mostly it will require some activity of your own, so the information presented in the following can definitely help you in all of this. It´s based on your own personality, as it is mirrored by your date of birth, converted to recommendations, based on universal principles.



You may wish to watch this video on the "Benefit from the Power of Date Selection by using the Leverage Effect to make your task easier", just to even better understand what I´m talking about here.
(Click either the link or the picture to open the link and watch the video.)
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=5ZvWMpCwzy8

So, with this "Success Planner & Essentials" you will get the basic ingredients for applying these tools, to help you achieve your desired results, and even more, in a most efficient way.

Sure enough, there can be no guarantee. But you can significantly increase your chances for success. And also sure enough, the guidelines presented here can only give you some basics. Much more could be possible in a detailed analysis, and you´re welcome to ask for a "real" personal consultation. Please consider my offer "Me and My Space" to get started that way (see http://FengShuiGuide.me/).
But then, basics is what´s most important.
If you get the basics right, your own intuition will be strengthened and many details will just fall into place.

Now then, one of the foundations for all the guidelines presented here, that´s your date of birth.

Amongst many other things, your BaZi (the "Four Pillars" from Chinese Astrology) decides on your Personal "10 Essential Qualities", which I will explain in more detail later.
They help you understand your strengths and weaknesses, your blessings and challenges.
You may use this information to become better aware of the structure of your personality, so you can make better use of your strengths, and to know better where you might wish to look for help by someone else.

But above all you may apply this information in an easy way to better manage your time, to achieve more with less effort. That´s what the "Success Planner" is meant to do for you. You can plan ahead and do things WHEN they go easily.

And you can do things WHERE they go easily. Choose the appropriate sector of your environment (home or business) and the appropriate alignment of your furniture (bed / desk / etc.) to experience support from the space around you. Feel it and believe it.
This is what Feng Shui can do for you.

So I truly hope that you may use this Success Planner to coach yourself and be happy with numerous great results, combining BaZi and Feng Shui in a unique way.

Should you have any questions or wish for more individualized help, please reach out to me one way or the other, and I´ll be happy to serve you.

Just some final words to introduce the following pages:

In this sample I want to show you what you will get when you order the product, the charts as well as the comments and guidelines for using those. There will also be links to external sources like videos to help you in understanding even better what you can do. More videos will become available over time. If technically feasible (I´m still doing some research on this), some videos may also get included in this document when published in ePub or Kindle format. Please stay with me at my Telegram channel to be among the first to know about it once available. And sure enough, as a valued customer, you will also get access to those videos on YouTube, even though they might not be available to the general public.

For now and for this sample, one after another I´ll introduce a topic and say a few words about the background and the usage along with the single charts. When you receive your own personalized copy, all your charts will make up a first chapter, and comments will follow as a second chapter.

Also here, I´ll sometimes switch the charts between the two options you have at present for ordering, either the Emerald or the Diamond Edition. If some chart is yours for the Diamond Edition only, you´ll find a note there – all the others you´ll get with the Emerald Edition also.

Then just to be clear: In the following I´m talking about two persons, because the tools for analysis presented here can be great for a couple. So, if you order for a couple (at the reduced price), you decide on either Emerald or Diamond, and this will then apply to both persons (so no switch as in this sample).

OK then, I hope you will enjoy reading the sample, and then enjoy applying this to your own advantage.

Let´s get started with the basic ingredients for all the following, the “Four Pillars of Destiny”, your basic chart in Chinese Astrology (BaZi), based on your date and location of birth.

Let´s consider our first example (Jenny´s partner John will follow later):

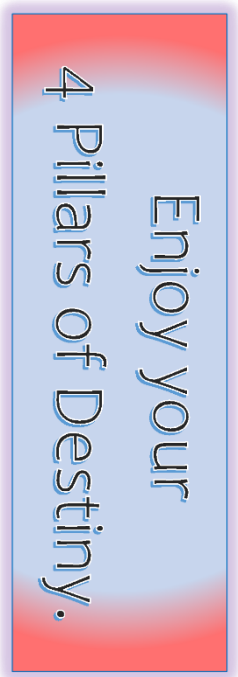
Jenny Luck	30.08.1986 13:39

energetic hour of birth	energetic day of birth	energetic year of birth
13:39	30.08.1986	1986

Hour	Day	Month	Year
乙	丙	丙	丙
wood	FIRE	FIRE	FIRE
Goat	Horse	Monkey	Tiger
未	午	申	寅

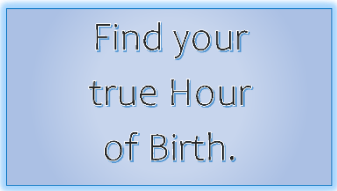
7	4	8	2
6	3	4	4



When ordering this manual, you can opt to have me take the hour you quote as it is, or to adjust it to local time, provided I get the basic data for this, like mentioned here:

Official Time of Birth:

30.08.1986, 15:30, Paris, France
(one hour daylight savings time)



Please see https://t.me/s/MystroSchoening/25 about my personal view on the importance of adjustment to "Local Time".
And yes, I´m aware that some of the great masters have a different opinion here (not all, luckily enough), but I have two reasons to stick to my own point of view.
- Adjustment to local time feels much more appropriate scientifically.
- More important: Over and over again, I could feel the switch from the energy of one double-hour to the next one almost down to the minute, based on the local time of my then current location. Sure, the change of energy has to be a bit radical, but that happens, and it´s also dependent on one's own energy pattern. So please let me encourage you to watch out for this when playing around with my recommendations in this manual. You´ll get a list of your local time for every two hours of a day at your own location later, and it´s included in your product, if you provide the location and buy the Diamond Edition.

But well, if you´d like to do it otherwise, or if you just don´t know the hour of your birth or the exact location, then just do not specify anything here for my calculations. Without the hour, or with a wrong hour, the figures for the strength of your "Essential Qualities" (see below) will not be correct, but the

(Copyright: A.W.Schoening)

"Blessings" (see below) will be valid nonetheless, as none of those rely on the hour. So you can still make good use of the Calendar as Planner.

(OK, one small but important exception: The hour from 11 pm till midnight usually is said to belong to the next day, so if this could be the case for you and you specify nothing, then the true hour would change the day, and in worst case even month and year – therefore in the chart it says "energetic day" - and also "energetic year" as in general the year for BaZi does NOT change on January 1st. So this exception can turn the reading of a BaZi upside down – and yes, it happens in real life.)

For some generic ideas on how to use this, especially the not so well-known digits below the common pillars (based on Xuan Kong Da Gua and analysis by hexagrams), please see:
http://fengshuiguide.me/PDF/Easy-Interpretations-BaZi.pdf

I trust you will find the analysis given there for Trump and the Sussex family quite fascinating, and you will be learning quite a bit for yourself.
And you should have a look, so you better understand the "10" coming up in the calendar later on.

Just one little appetizer for you:
Should you come across a chart with digit no. "1" in the bottom line of one or even more pillars, like you see here for Donald Trump, then in general this person might be quite powerful. The "1" indicates that the pillar represents one of the 8 "leaders" amongst the hexagrams in the I Ching (they can be divided into 8 families, and each one has a leader, where upper and lower trigram are the same). So you might be interested to check this for family, work colleagues and friends.

And when we look at the calendar later on, you will recognize these digits again, and the interesting column here is the so-called "Fate". So if you see the "1" there, you know it´s going to be a powerful day, notwithstanding other specifics.

Well then, here you can get similar charts for free, exactly like the one presented here, for any person of your interest:
http://easy.fengshui.software/EN/
And there, you can also rename elements and animal signs to your liking and in your own language.

Now back to our main topic here. The purpose for this manual is not to analyse any chart as such, but to focus on the strength and blessings of the "10 Essential Qualities", as this helps a lot in successful Date Selection.

Here´s a short introduction to these "Essential Qualities", as I like to call them.
In textbooks you will find various different names for those, but for example, what really could some name like "Hurting Officer" tell you?

On the next pages you will find more details to each of these qualities, and that will help greatly in understanding yourself, and in making good use of the calendar.

The 10 Essential Qualities

Jenny Luck
Discipline	- water	Influence	Bravery	+ WATER
Studies	- wood	Resources	Intuition	+ WOOD
Networking	+ FIRE	Connections	Leadership	- fire
Creativity	+ EARTH	Output	Performance	- earth
Responsibility	- metal	Wealth	Opportunities	+ METAL

As you can see at first glance, they are based on the 5 elements and their relationship of generating each other, from top to bottom and back to top.

The middle row here, and there on the left side, always holds the so-called "Self-Element" of the person, which is the "Stem" of the day of birth, highlighted in color in the chart of the Four Pillars (see there).

So, for example, the Self (the person himself/herself) is supported by the "Resources" and generates "Output".

There are two options for both:

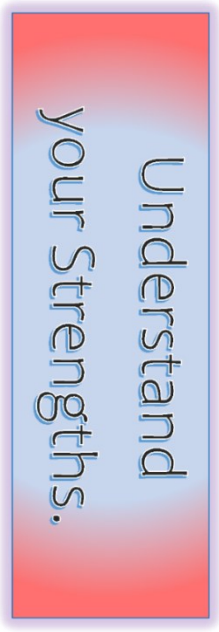
The person can "study" and gain knowledge as a resource.
The person can be blessed by "intuition".

The person can work out of herself/himself and privately produce some output, out of "creativity".
The person can "perform" on stage (any kind of promotion) to show off his/her talents/products to others.

As we can see, the qualities on the left side of the graphic always "belong" to the person himself/herself. The qualities on the right side of the graphic always talk about interaction with the world outside.

So in the center, it´s about "connections" of the Self, which can either be friendly on the same level, therefore useable for "Networking". Or it can mean connecting with the opposite quality in the same element, and then the question arises of who will take leadership (might be competitors, might be siblings). If your quote here is zero, chances are that you will have to follow someone else; if your quote is high, chances are that others will follow you (ok, don´t forget about the other qualities necessary for that).

(Copyright: A.W.Schoening)



What about "Influence"? If you´re "brave" enough to live up to challenges, again chances are that you can influence others to follow you.

If you can "influence" yourself, it´s another word for being able to "discipline" yourself.

Last not least "Wealth". You can generate it by just recognizing good "opportunities" in the outside world and making perfect use of those. Or you can accumulate wealth by taking full "responsibility" of everything you yourself do, from great performance at a job to not spending more than you earn etc.

What about "Zero in Wealth"? You may tend to not care much about these things, but you may still get rich. How come? Wealth is the "child" of your output, so if you generate some great output, wealth may come whether you care about it or not (ok, it´s possible but not guaranteed: some artists are rich, many are great but poor).

Well then, did you get the idea of these qualities?

For real life, all the qualities work together, so there´s much more to this than just counting individual occurrences in a chart (and please also remember: each quality may appear in some kind of "hidden" form, not displayed in the graphic here, and some element may be strengthened drastically by a "combination", and so on and on). But that´s too much for these Essentials. As I see it, even with just the basic information provided here, it´s great to use for planning your daily important activities.

At the next page, the numbers in the center give an estimate on how strong your personality is with that category. It also includes information on Hidden Stems and more, which gives a better estimate on how strong the element is overall than just counting the signs in the chart. However, quite a few indicators (like possible combinations, support of Stem from Branch, etc.) are not included as there can be very special situations, so it´s not feasible to try and cover that in this rough estimate.

The numbers given represent the (rounded) percentage which the element holds from a total 100. So it´s easy to see at one glance where supposedly you´re real strong, and where it might be appropriate to make some investment in getting stronger, or in fact ask for external help to support you.

Please also note that these Essentials can be very useful, but some special constellation in a BaZi may turn out to be even more powerful. Please see https://t.me/s/MystroSchoening/51 on why timing and BaZi played a very important role in the election of John McCarthy as Speaker of the House in the US in 2023.

And, most important, the basic ingredients for each quality (elements and animals in a chart), can be assigned special "Blessings" (see following page; I will use this term also for qualities like "Attraction", "Authority" and so on) – so you can look out for those in any date.

In fact, in my experience, the Blessings in each element/sign can be far more important for you than whether some master may call an element "Favorable" for you or not. Whether it´s "favorable" or not, whether you "long for it" or not, that´s purely based on the strength of your "Daymaster" (stem of the day), and this can be a good indicator of whether you will like a certain sign or not, but without the blessings assigned to it, it doesn´t help that much in real life (and if you ask several masters, they may vary greatly on which element to favor or not, and also yin/Yang will mostly be excluded, whereas it´s one of the main factors in everyday life).

Another big advantage of this type of analysis is, that you can extend it´s usage from time to space. I´ll show you later, what you can achieve with this for the Feng Shui of your environment.

So here are the Essential Qualities in more detail now:

Jenny Luck

Choosing a promising date

Main purpose here is, that in connection with the calendar you may check when you have a chance to get what you want or need. For example you may check, which sign gives you "Bravery", which one gives you "Angel Blessings" (or any other of the mentioned qualities), then check on the days when you might benefit from this quality (or be careful, if you´ll meet with "Calamity" for example). It never means that it HAS TO HAPPEN, but chances are that it does, just like in a weather forecast. So it´s good to be prepared, especially if a great quality personally meets with a great quality in the day itself.

Please note that the numbers give an indication which qualities might be your strengths, and where you might wish to ask for help from friends or professionals, if important for your life. But then it´s no more than a first guess: many more factors in the horoscope will have an influence. So, for example there can be very rich persons without any elements of "wealth".

Once again, the purpose here is to motivate you to look out for any quality you might wish to strengthen (overall, or at a certain period in time, or for a dedicated project), and then watch out for days and hours which can bring you the desired energy and support you.

For example, if Jenny needs more discipline for a specific task (like preparing taxes for example), why not do it on a day with either "yin Water" in the Stem or the "Rat" in the Branch? If, for some reason, she has to perform on stage (might be doing a presentation at work, might be launching a new website for her own business), why not do it on a day with "yin Earth" as Stem or "Ox" as Branch, but rather not on a day of "Goat", as that also brings her the risk of "Calamity". If she´s looking for investment opportunities, let´s choose the "Monkey". And with the "Race Horse" present there, which likes to travel far, look for opportunities abroad. Got it?

Just some more notes for this introduction:

When looking for the appropriate time, to get the desired quality, you might not only choose the day but also the hour (see the assignment of the hours to the animal signs later, as well as some notes on local time).

And also, "hidden" in any pillar are the qualities which come with its hexagram. Please watch this video on Date Selection using Hexagrams and Essential Qualities (called Fairies there) for an introduction https://youtu.be/Z-OoPUcGdD4?t=115 (entry point skipping some technical stuff, as it was primarily done to show some interactive features of my software).
You may click on the link or the picture.

The video explains in detail, which of two "Success-Days" will be more suited to which kind of activity. I hope you will grasp the main idea, which you can use now with your Personal Planner and Personal Chi Essentials to really get the tailwind of the cosmos for your endeavors.

Therefore, if you have the "Diamond Edition" of this manual, then you can choose two of the Essential Qualities to be displayed in your personal calendar, along with two elements in Stems and Branches to be highlighted. If you have the "Emerald Edition", then just use all the other great information provided.

This is just a short sample here.

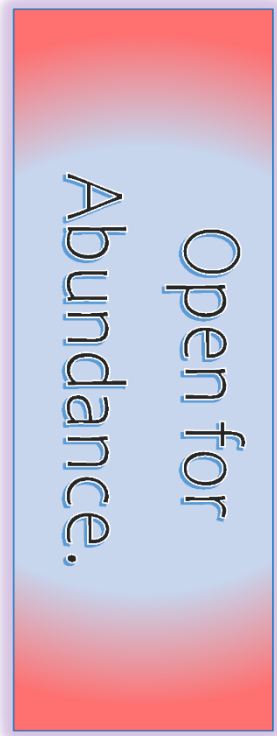
You will get a calendar similar to this one for 111 days, from the day of delivery to you onward.
And you will get it as a separate PDF, so you´re free to decide whether to print this as you see it now or in landscape format, so you have some space on the right for your own annotations on paper.

Talking about choosing a date, please also have a look at the qualities of the day as such, hopefully self-explaining for now. You will not want to open a shop on a day to "terminate" something, right? But you might terminate a toxic relationship on such a day. So there´s something good in any of those qualities, just be aware to adjust what you want to achieve to what suits the energy of the day, then you´ll get the best possible results.

Nonetheless, please be aware that there´s a lot more qualities which might be assigned to each and every day, in fact dozens of them. What I give you here, that´s what in my experience is the most valuable information, suited to any kind of purpose. Looking into more specific details doesn´t make sense for this manual, but could be game changing for specific endeavors (like an operation in the hospital, for example).

Also, as you know, mostly life needs compromises, it doesn´t all just fit together. So if the task at hand really is important for you (like launching a business or getting married), please consider a professional consultation for selecting the best possible date, given your specific options and requirements. Sure enough, I´ll be happy to serve you – please specify your needs and ask for an explicit offer.

Now then, let´s have a look at the column with "Special Energies", and what you may do with those, using the time frame from the Example again.



There are days which have an overall quality of "Abundance".

Whatever you think or do then, try to be in a state of Abundance (well, that´s good in any case, but these days facilitate and strengthen this attitude). It may be Abundance to give, but also Abundance to receive. How the days connect with you personally, which of your personal Four Pillars interacts with the day and how, that might explain whether it´s more on a relationship or more on a business or wealth plane. For now, just be receptive and try it.

More specific:

The days in December 2022 feature Abundance when it comes to "Terminate" something. So to get abundance in the future, it may be good timing to terminate something (job, relationship, domicile, etc.) on these days, which blocks the future. In other months the topic will be different, but I trust it´s easy to grasp for you now.

Then we have "Problem solving" days:
According to the other quality in the day, it may mean getting solutions in starting long term commitments which you "Launch" on that day, on other days it may mean getting solutions in negotiating something, and so on.

Last not least you´ll find overall "Success" days, and the video quoted above shows you, what this may mean in detail, and how to make the best choice according to your needs at that time in your life.

(Copyright: A.W.Schoening)

And finally: You´re not alone in this world. So if there´s qualities which you´re short of yourself, why not add those to your life by asking for help from someone else, both in private and in business life. For example, your private partner might be better in "discipline", so rely on him or her to better organize your life (in this example, John could help Jenny as he´s got a lot of that quality for himself). Or your business partner is better in "Performance", so leave the presentations (or preparing marketing materials) to her or him – or hire someone to do it for you.

And there´s yet another level to this: John has the "Pig" in his chart, which means "Angel Blessings" for Jenny. Great choice for a partner, right? That´s why her name is "Luck". On the other hand, see how much "Fire" Jenny has in her chart, which is "Wealth" for John, so his name is "Rich". More on this later.

So, I truly hope you will find all this information very useful for your life, but will also have some fun in checking and applying it. And if then there´s a great story to tell, please let me know.

The basic idea once again: Plan ahead for the best timing for your success, based on the quality of time vs your own Chi.

And if you find out that this really helps you in all your endeavors, please ask for the next 111 days before the current ones expire.

Two further remarks before going on.

What´s the meaning of "10" sometimes appearing in the column between "Star" and "Fate"?
"Star" and "Fate", that´s the two digits from Xuan Kong, which you may recognize from the Four Pillars. Now, if a date combines with the person to "10" in the Star, that date is considered to be very auspicious for the person, so all those days are explicitly mentioned in your personal calendar. You may observe, for example, that all the year of the "water Rabbit" should be good for Jenny.
Having said that, my personal experience so far has been, that it´s nice as an information on the side, but other factors play a more important role in Date Selection. This changes however, when it comes to placing furniture and aligning it to a direction, which combines to "10" (you may watch the video on this quoted later) – there it can make a huge difference.

Now, you may not only want to choose the day but also the hour according to these principles.
Then you need to know the timing for the hours according to your location.
Here they are for Barcelona, and you´ll see why I chose this city for the sample here.

	Standard				Barcelona WITHOUT Summertime / DST				Barcelona When DST in effect

Let´s assume that Jenny wants to benefit from the great qualities of the Snake for herself, and that she wants to do that in summer (not included in this excerpt from the calendar, but the hourly qualities stay the same over time), then the timing should be in between 10:51 and 12:51, even though the standard time frame for the Snake is 09:00 till 11:00. So the two versions overlap for just 9 minutes here. (The reason for this is, apart fromDST, that Barcelona is in the same Time Zone as Goerlitz in Germany, which is the center of the zone, so the sun is at its midday peak at 12:00 in Goerlitz, but arrives at its peak almost an hour later in Barcelona. Please find some more information and a variety of examples around the world here: https://t.me/s/MystroSchoening/25)

If you´ve just got the Emerald Edition, well you´ll have to do this adjustment yourself, or just forget about it.
But if you´re sensitive enough, you may just feel when the quality of the hour is changing (yes, it´s possible, especially when the change is quite drastic and/or you react to some special constellation re your own chart – and if you´ve got the appropriate minute once, you´ve got it for all the hours).

When ordering your Diamond Edition of your Personal 111 Success Planner & Chi Essentials, you may choose up to two of the Essential Qualities displayed in the other page (Influence / Resources / etc.), so they will be shown in their strength in the hexagram of the day (see the video above please). Zero / One or Two are the only possibilities – more than " 2 " is not possible.

You may also choose up to two of the five elements to be highlighted in Stems (Elements) and Branches (Animals) of the days.
This way you can easily check where you get what you need, or where you cannot avoid to get what you do NOT want, due to other circumstances.

If you have no idea on what to specify when ordering (you might know from your personal experience in life however), you may do so after having received the document with your Qualities and the other information. The Calendar will be delivered as a separate document anyhow (time-delayed for Diamond), so you may easily print it in landscape format. You may also print the pages, and add special interests yourself.

Please note that "balancing" what you don´t have in your own horoscope (like "Water" here) can be a good idea. However, it could also be beneficial to strengthen even more your own strengths (like "Fire" here). It all depends on (a) the overall constellation in your horoscope, and (b) the actual situation in your life.

Just a note to reflect upon: Why would a person with "extraordinary" capabilities want to "balance" those in order to live an "ordinary" life?

Sure I´ll also be happy to assist you with a deeper look at your personal horoscope (BaZi), and it will be part of my offer "Me and My Space" (see http://FengShuiGuide.me/).

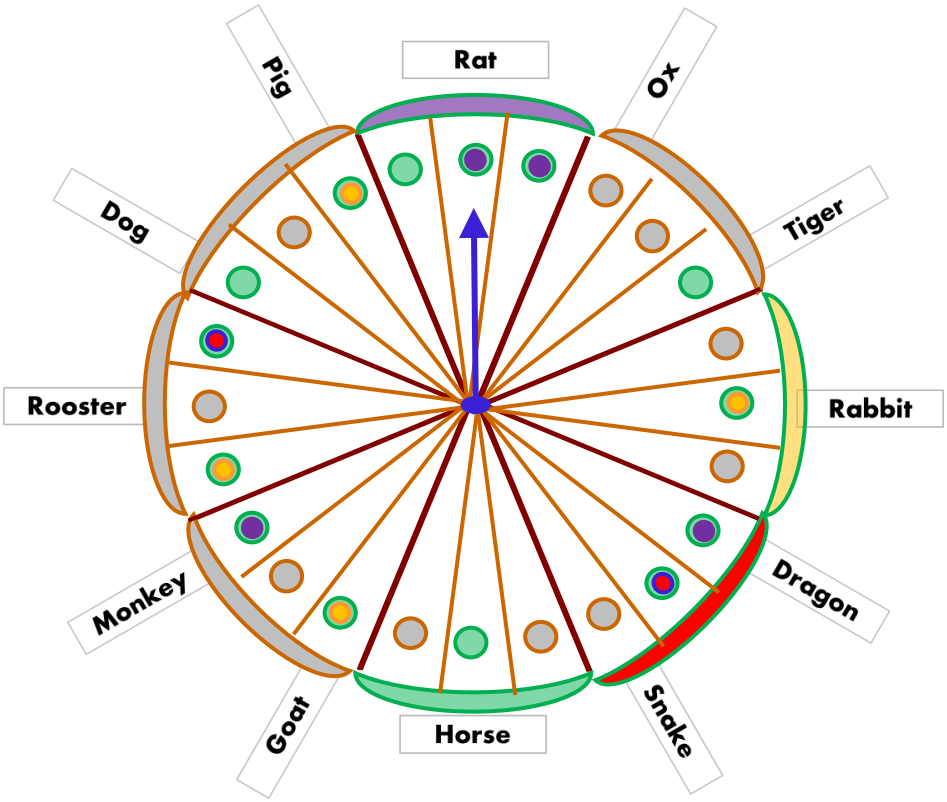
Talking about specifying your order:
There will be even more on this for the Feng Shui part coming next. All in all, you might opt for the Emerald Edition and provide just basic data, easy enough for you, and still yielding great help for your life. But if you want to get the full power of the Diamond Edition, please make sure you read this manual carefully and provide necessary data in such a way that no further inquiry will be necessary – otherwise I´d be happy to serve you, but would have to charge for this additional effort.
When confirming your order, you will receive a form though to enter your data, so at least you will not forget anything, and not in the least this manual is meant to explain all techniques needed.

Let´s go on to your space and Feng Shui now.

Auspicious directions for Identity / Health / Vitality & Wealth



Jenny Luck

For your own Personal Planner, sure you will get the full rosette with all details. I just don´t want to give it all away for free here, so some area is shaded a bit, but you should get the idea.

(Copyright: A.W.Schoening)

In general, in my design, all sectors with colors red/yellow/purple are the ones auspicious for the person (see also below).
Now for Jenny, being a member of the "East-Group", also green is auspicious for her.

Let´s have a short introduction to this system here:

For each year of birth, and depending on the gender of the person, there is an allocation to the so-called East group or West group. Depending on the group, there are four favourable and four challenging directions

The favourable directions of the East group are: East - Southeast - North - South. So these include the cardinal points that are associated with the elements Wood / Water / Fire in Chinese terms.
If an auspicious direction of this group has no special meaning for the person at hand, it´s color will be "green".

The favourable directions of the West group are: West - Southwest - Northwest - Northeast. So these include the cardinal points that are associated with the elements Metal and Earth.
If an auspicious direction of this group has no special meaning for the person at hand, it´s color will be "gray-brown".

So this applies to the eight "broad" directions. Luckily enough, there is a more detailed subdivision, with the eight cardinal directions each subdivided into three sectors (the so-called "24 Mountains" of Feng Shui in total), which in turn are assigned to either the East or the West group. It is ideal, of course, if you can use a direction in which "rough" and "fine" classification match. But even if only one criterion is met, you should be able to perceive a positive aspect. Like this, for couples there are many "mixed" constellations that they can use. Please see the proposed solution for Jenny and John later.

Now, there are three special qualities which I´d like to highlight here, because it´s worthwhile to try and maximize the benefit they can bring you. You can recognize those by their colors:

Health Vitality/Wealth Identity

Sadly enough, often the sector for "Identity" is underestimated.
This sector directly corresponds to your full personality, and it´s always worthwhile to check that this sector is "in order" for your environment and supports you. If not, then it might be more difficult for you to keep up positive self-esteem. So especially if you have to decide on a new location for your home or business, pay special attention to this sector, and be cautious if it happens to be "missing" from a full rectangle.

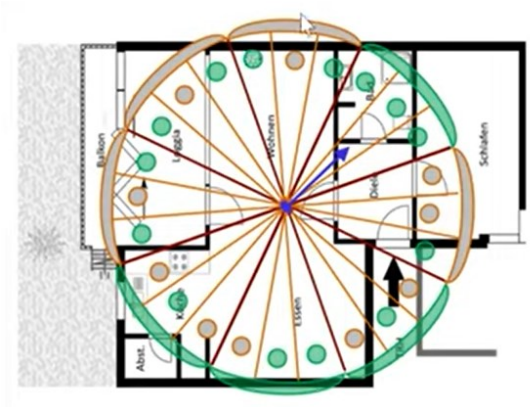
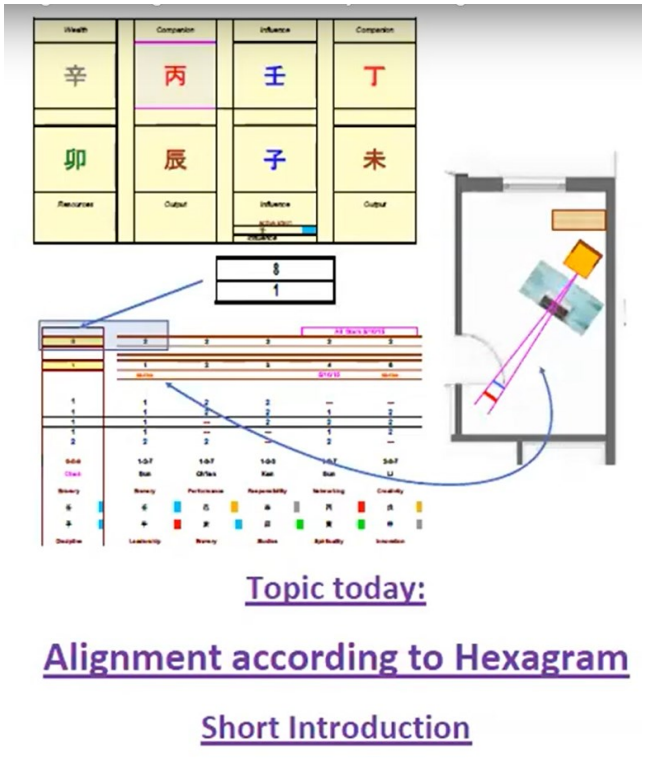
Now then, there´s two intended applications for this:

First, you may use the 8 directions and 24 mountains for their quality according to this system.
The colors tell you, which sectors/directions are your best choice.
You may wish to choose those for placing and positioning bed / desk / other important furniture.



Please also have a look at this video. It was primarily done to explain about my software, but comes in very handy here also:

https://youtu.be/yBW-34X7USc?t=328



Please note that this system of East- vs West-Group is a useful but still a very rough approach.
"Good directions" can be personalized down to the exact degree. Please have a look here: https://youtu.be/eVzTo6DCP7A?t=69 (well, quite long and technical, but fascinating).

It also needs mentioning, that this approach so far is based on your personal energy only.

Any environment has energy on its own, in total as well as in certain areas.
So this energy can be much stronger than your personal one, and you have to consider it above all else.
But that´s beyond the scope of this guide, meant to give you the best options for you personally.

If you´d like to know more about the energy of your environment as such (from the meaning of the structure of your space to Flying Stars and more), please consider a dedicated consultation and my offer "Me and My Space" to get started that way (see http://FengShuiGuide.me/).

Why are Flying Stars for the property not included here?

(Copyright: A.W.Schoening)

http://FengShuiGuide.me/
Mobile: +49 – 171 - 88 185 88

This topic is just too complicated and can take up a lot of time to do it right. There´s a lot of differing opinions around with various masters, so as to make it seemingly easy, if you follow just one guideline: how to choose the "correct" direction (facing or site, single apartment or full building), how to choose the "correct" period (date of construction or moving in, periods of same or varying lengths), which way to fly the stars etc. I´ve always retained an open mind on all these options, in my consultations checking results against experience of residents over time. If the property has been inhabited by the same person(s) for some time, their experience overall and in single rooms should match the predictions from the Flying Stars, right? Conclusion: The stars can provide enormous insight and help, if, BIG "IF", if one gets it right, but that can be extremely tricky. For me, facing and site do not have to be opposite, mountain and water star do not have to have the same period, and then magnetic North could have been quite different from now for the time deciding the stars (the North Pole is moving over time, and it can be as much as 15 degrees over 100 years, see below, so this really has an enormous influence).

So, to decide on the Flying Stars in a consultation, I need to look at pictures, do various calculations, and talk to clients. It´s definitely beyond the scope of a standardized package like this one.

But still, there´s Yearly and Monthly Flying Stars, and at least you should avoid the "bad guy No. 5" as good as you can, irrespective of the native stars of the property.

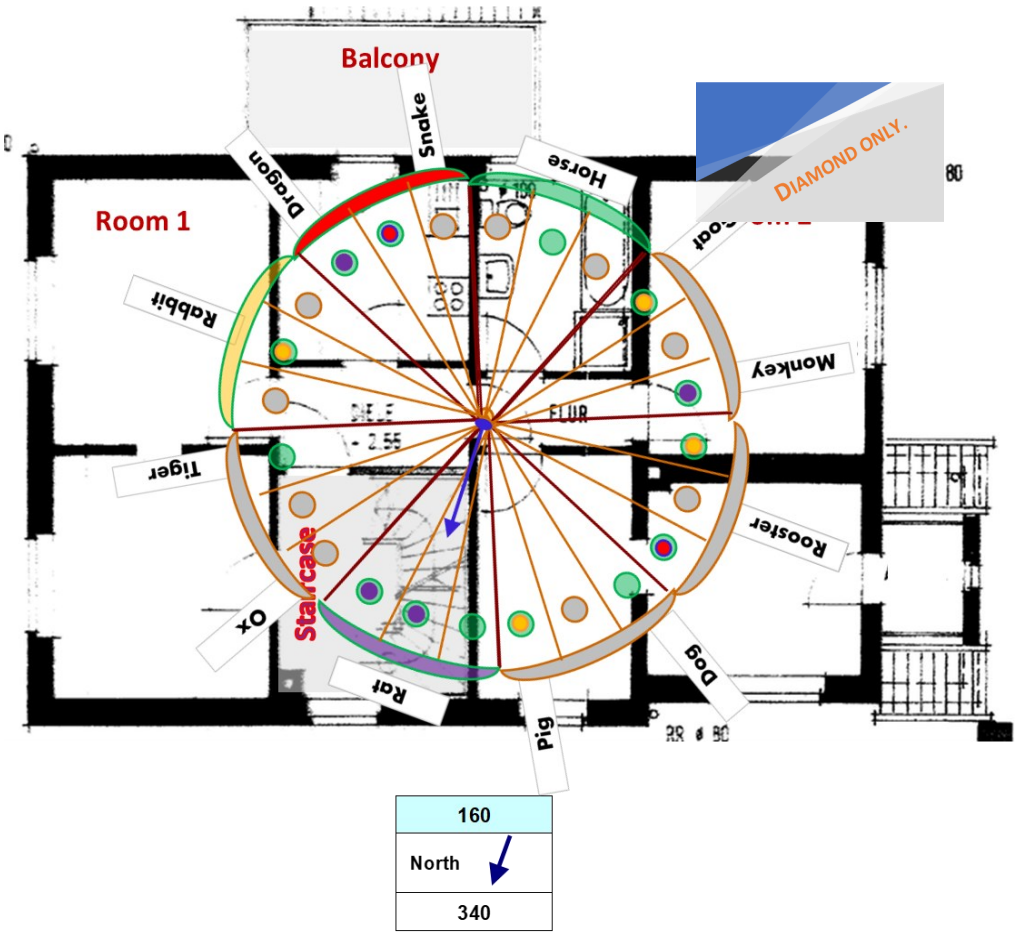
Second, you may check the potential "Blessings" of the mountains according to your Essential Qualities.

On one hand, this may provide additional help, if you can choose from various good sectors/directions according to East-West, as it adds another layer of qualities.
For example, even though the sector of "Goat" is considered as "healthy" for Jenny here, it also holds some chance of "Calamity", so better choose one of the other sectors for the bed.

On the other hand, you may just "activate" a good sector for getting the associated blessings.
For example, put some flowers in the sector for "Attraction" – or some special object for getting closer to a special person.
Or do some meditation on a special quality in the appropriate sector.
For example, for Jenny here, mediating on "Authority" and "Leadership" in the South (sector of the "Horse") could help her strengthening these character traits.

And yes, now Jenny could opt for even better results by making perfect use of her Personal Planner as well, choosing a day (or maybe just the hour) of the "Horse" for doing this meditation.
Can you see the beauty of putting it all together?

(Copyright: A.W.Schoening)



Well well, it may seem a little bit tricky now, but that´s the true benefit of it:
You can play around with many options to find the best possible solution – and "best" may change over time, and you can still apply this methodology.

So how to do it technically?

First, find a room with good personal energy.

Take a floorplan of your full house or apartment, find the center (see below), also find out about the direction of Magnetic North (see below), overlay floorplan with the graphic above, turning it around so that the blue arrow fits North.
Now you can see, which areas of your environment are most auspicious for you personally.

If no other criteria objects, choose those areas/rooms with good energy for your most important activities, or where you will spend most of your time – and yes, "sleep" is a very important "activity" for your health.

You can see the center, and neither Staircase nor Balcony have been included for the calculation here.

All sectors with colors red/yellow/green/purple are the ones auspicious for Jenny.
So in this case, Room 1 would clearly be the best for her bed, the more so as "yellow" indicates "Health".

For details of Room 1, please refer to John later here, as I explain on how to find a position which suits both of this couple.

If you don´t have a floorplan and don´t know how to draw it, please don´t panic: you´re not alone in that. Just skip the step above, decide on the rooms by other criteria, and proceed with the next step, which should be fairly simple. But you´ll still need the direction of North (see below).

Second, find an auspicious place for the most important piece of furniture, bed / desk / lounge chair etc., in that room.
If you´re happy with what you got from step 1, fine. Otherwise, repeat the method of step 1, but now for the single room.

Third, find an auspicious alignment for that piece of furniture.

Most people will stay with aligning major pieces of furniture parallel or at a right angle to a wall. But that might not be the best choice. And in fact, even without further looking at any theory, by just playing around with this and trusting your own experience, you may find out that turning furniture by just a few degrees can have a drastic effect on how you feel there. And yes, even though you will change your personal direction while sleeping, alignment of the bed as such has an important effect on your sleep, and in this also on your health.

And even more: The alignment of your bed can have a significant effect on your sex life in general, and on your ability to conceive a child in particular. To influence this from a theoretical standpoint, I´d use Hexagram Feng Shui, which is beyond the scope of this manual, but please see the video mentioned earlier (https://youtu.be/eVzTo6DCP7A?t=69), and please contact me, should this be a topic of special concern for you.

So, if you´re very sensitive, you may just play around and follow your own perception till you´re happy - and after all I always do recommend that you take good care of what you perceive yourself, because no guidelines and no theory can include all possibilities. But still you may wish to have a "best guess" to get started, and that´s what this guide can do for you.

So now, place the graphic where the piece of furniture should roughly be, then turn the bed/desk around, so that you have a favorable direction in front of you for doing your work, or that you have it at your back (your head) for your bed. Please note the important difference here.
And please see my comments for John on how to do it for a couple.

So, how to find the center?

Andreas W. Schoening - Feng Shui Consultations since 1996

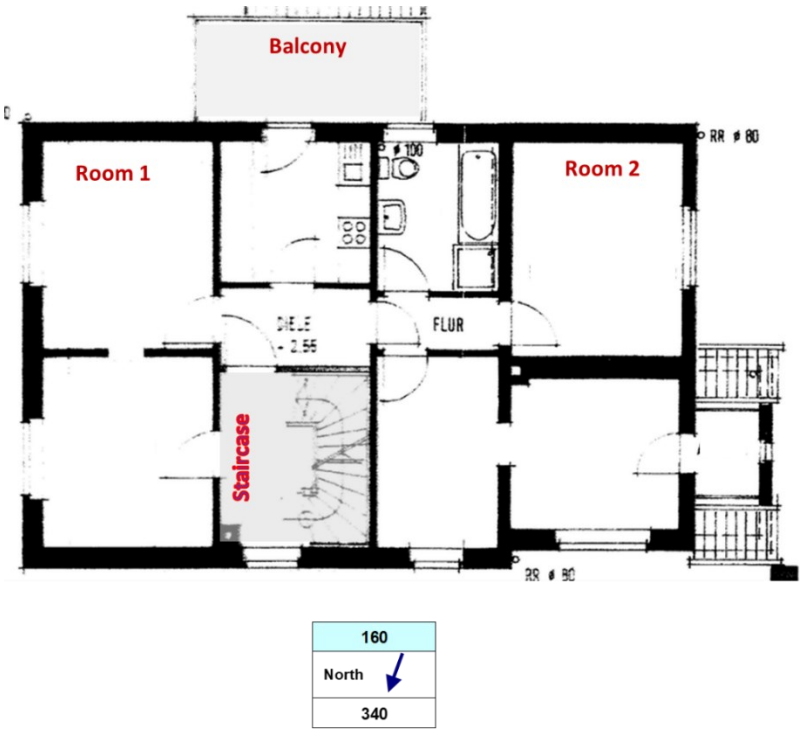
How to find the Center.

First, for this do away with all "open" additions like terrasse and balcony. Do include a garage, if it has an internal door to the house.

If you end up with a rectangular space, then just draw lines between opposing corners, and the center is where they meet.
If the space is not rectangular, but not that far away from it, just use the same method as we need not be exact to the point here.
If the space is far away from being rectangular, there´s differing opinions on what to do. Personally, I prefer to find the "center of gravity", which requires some handiwork technically, and then maybe some adjustment due to special circumstances.
If it´s a house with multiple storeys, do it for each floor separately.

So, if you´ve got the "Emerald Edition" of this manual, then hopefully the guidelines above will be good enough for you to proceed.
If you´ve got the "Diamond Edition", then I will do it for you (find the center and superimpose the directions), for either one floor and one room, or for just one or two rooms. If you choose "two rooms", you don´t need a full floorplan, just the measurements of the single rooms, so it´s easier for you to prepare. And it might make more sense, if for other reasons the choice of what to do with the rooms is not an option here, but you may want to optimize a bedroom as well as the room for your home office.
Please provide an appropriate JPG or PDF with your order.



So here´s what ideally you´d prepare for me.
You can either draw the arrow for North somewhere, or note the degrees on any of the sides of the plan.

Now, how to find the direction of North at your place?

Well, you might just take your phone, open an App, and think "that´s it". Most likely it´s not.
Or you find your house on Google Maps (or similar), take a screenshot and think that North is at the top now. Definitely it´s not what you want.

First, you need to know that there´s a difference between "True North" and "Magnetic North". The Magnetic Pole wanders around and does NOT coincide with the true North Pole of the earth. (see https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/North_Pole and https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/North_magnetic_pole
Now, unfortunately enough for us, Feng Shui relies on the magnetic field, as this is what mostly influences nature, including us humans, whereas most technical applications nowadays rely on True North, from GPS to orientation of online maps. So, you cannot just take a map from the Internet to decide North for your Feng Shui.

For the App on your phone, you have to check, whether it gives you True or Magnetic North, or whether you can choose. If it gives you Magnetic North, most likely it will be even worse in that than any traditional magnetic compass. Just hold your phone in hand and move around to see what happens to the needle. Same with a traditional magnetic compass. There´s just too much metal and electromagnetic disturbances in our world today to allow for a stable magnetic reading.

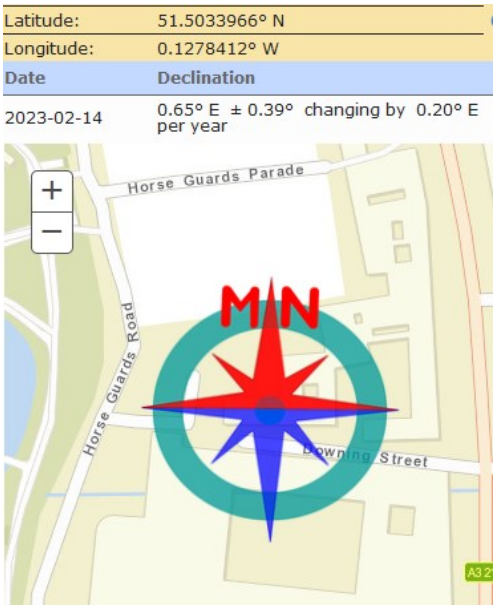
If the App gives you True North, please check whether it´s really calculated directly from your position (GPS or other), then it´s fine, or whether the app takes the magnetic sensor and then applies the declination calculated similar to the website I show you below, then it´s no use for us at all.

So what to do?

If you´re taking magnetic measurement, you may take several ones and then decide on what seems likely to be the best guess for the overall situation of your space, to be applied for the orientation of the graphic for the full flour etc. If you want to align specific furniture, you should take measurements just there, but still foot and head side of a bed might be different. Nonetheless it can give you a splendid first guess, to be refined by your own gut feeling.

Alternatively you may use True North and look up, how much this deviates from Magnetic North at your place (called declination). There´s a great website for this:
https://www.ngdc.noaa.gov/geomag/calculators/magcalc.shtml#declination

(Copyright: A.W.Schoening)

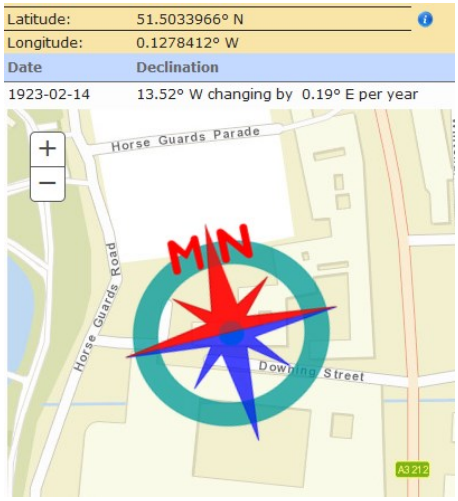


You need Latitude and Longitude, but you can get this from Google Maps or maybe from your phone.
For example, for "10 Downing Street in London", Google will give you "@51.5033966,-0.1278412" – just examine the URL to find this information (see below).
Now from that website at NOAA you have the red arrow pointing to the Magnetic North here.
Just do the same for your own property, and you´re done.

Or even better for you:
If you´ve got the "Diamond Edition" of this manual, then I may do it for you, provided you give me the address and a screenshot of Google Maps, where you clearly mark your own building and the orientation of your floorplan within that building.

(https://www.google.com/maps/place/10+Downing+St,+London+SW1A+2AB,+Vereinigtes+K%C3%B6nigreich/@51.5032296,-0.1279042,19.67z/data=!4m6!3m5!1s0x487604c56f3b61c7:0x9c97d4222fab0eb7!8m2!3d51.5033998!4d-0.1277265!16s%2Fg%2F11cnd7zd0l)

For the "Emerald Edition" it rests your own responsibility to find out the correct orientation of your property, so you can effectively overlay the graphic with your personal quality in each direction.



Just to mention:
In this example it looks like it´s not a big deal which kind of North you choose. But have a look at the situation for 10 Downing Street in the year 1923, 100 years ago

That´s a BIG deal now, and it may be similar to this in other areas of the world right now.
So better check it out for your place.
And, as said somewhere else also, please bear in mind the influence on the native Flying Stars for the property. It may not only have been a different "period" of the stars, when the house was built, but also totally different orientation then. So, using this technique is the only way to achieve reliable results: any current measurement will be of no avail.

Well then, if you got interested in more Feng Shui, to get even better energy for yourself from your environment, then please ask for personal advice, and please check my website for my special offer on a consultation "Me and My Space", combining BaZi and Feng Shui, to really get a "Boost for your Life": http://FengShuiGuide.me/

But for this sample, let´s go on to Jenny´s partner John, and gain some additional insight.

Did you recognize the "1" at the bottom in the Day Pillar, signifying a leadership quality?

So let´s look at the Essential Qualities now.

Can you see, that from a totally different angle, John also got "Authority" and "Leadership" in the "Horse" in his day? So this character trait should be real strong in his personality.

Now, the day in a BaZi is significant for personal relationships (the month talks more about job/business). So for John, in any private relationship he may try to dominate his partner, the more so as the element in the Stem of the day (Water – he himself) tries to conquer the element in the Branch (Fire), representing his partner. So Jenny might better take sympathetic note of this. But then she also got a powerful Horse in her Day, so both should be aware of potential conflicts and "power games" in their relationship. So, can you see the beauty of this kind of analysis using the Essential Qualities in addition to standard BaZi readings?

So just to show you, this is the Calendar if you got the Emerald Edition.

So no elements or qualities highlighted this time.

But please let me strengthen, that this calendar provides a lot of useful information for you and your success, even without the specifications as part of the Diamond Edition.

However, sure enough there´s even a lot more to the generic qualities of a day – and even the weather may play a role in your personal energy on a specific day. So please take this as a best guess, but be open for surprises either way, that a day may be better or worse than anticipated. And in fact, even a bad day may hold excellent hours, and a good day may have some hour which doesn´t fit you at all.

Please consider hiring me for a specific Date Selection, if you have something really important for you, like making a proposal for getting married, launching a new product etc.

And please let me add a few words on the hexagrams, in the calendar specified by their numbers.

Main purpose here was to check, whether a hexagram inherently holds the quality you´re looking for, from "Influence" to "Wealth" (please have a look at the video once again: https://youtu.be/Z-OoPUcGdD4?t=115).
But sure enough, the Hexagrams as assigned to the Pillars also hold their quality as known from the I Ching. You may reference any book or website. But please bear in mind, that the main focus of the wisdom of the I Ching is to find the good in everything. So, even if the hexagram of a day doesn´t look that good at first glance, it may teach you some valuable wisdom, and you may use that day nonetheless.

If you´re interested in what else can be done using the I Ching, maybe you like my little video here:

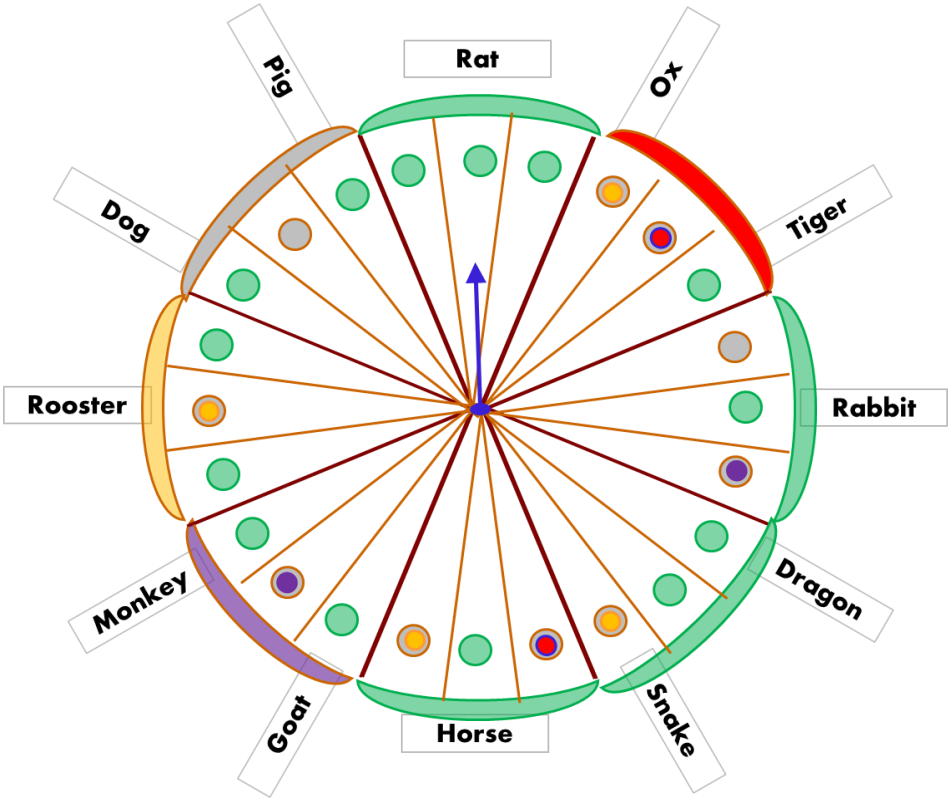
Now, before having a look at the Feng Shui for John, let´s first have a note on the side here:
Jenny and John are born in the same year, but being of opposite sex brings them differing groups according to the East-West-System, assuming that the energy of the year reflects differently when combined with male or female energy. Now, each one of us has both sides, just (normally) one more dominant than the other. So we might say, that also here the good quality of the auspicious sectors according to the West-Group will be felt more by John – but his "female side" will like the other sectors

(Copyright: A.W.Schoening)

(and the other way round for Jenny).
That´s especially important if we consider homosexuals.

Auspicious directions for Identity / Health / Vitality & Wealth



John Rich

Once again, all sectors with colors red/yellow/purple are the ones auspicious for John now.
But for him, being a member of the "West-Group", also gray-brown is auspicious for him.

Health Vitality/Wealth Identity

Now, let´s have a quick look at the sectors NOT specifically mentioned as auspicious.
They can have special qualities assigned also, but I don´t like to go into details here. Let´s just say that those sectors may pose some kind of challenge, and you can´t avoid challenges in life (in fact they might turn out to be very rewarding – the water in a river will be sparkling when forced into the air by some rock). So, you may want to seek out the good options for main activities, but don´t bother too much about the other ones – especially not when looking at those from the male-female-perspective.

Now, how to combine the charts to find a good positioning for the bed for the couple.

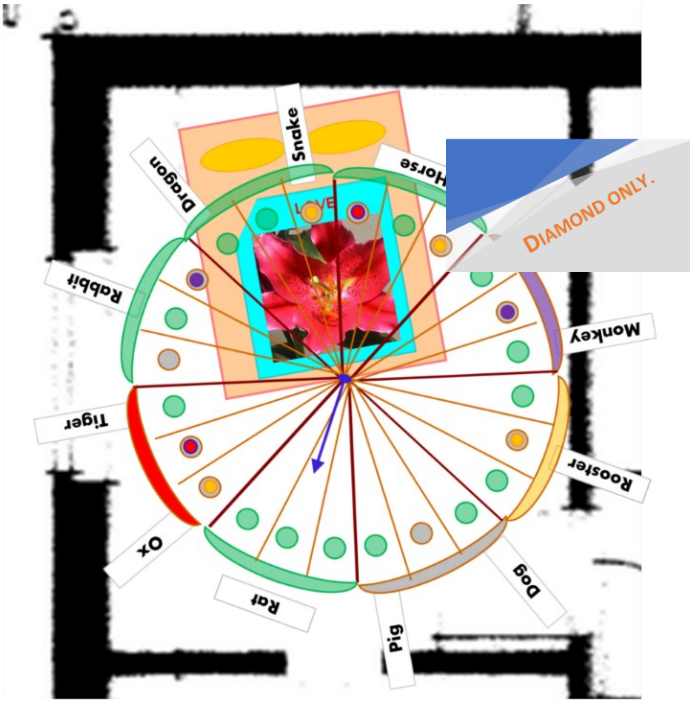
Let´s have a closer look now for Room No. 1 in our example.

This is room no. 1 with directions and qualities for John.
What about choosing the sector/direction of the "Snake" in Southeast?



Can you see the little yellow dot below "Snake", which indicates that it´s a healthy direction for John. It´s "Health" and "Angel Blessings" for him, even though Southeast in general is not one of his favorable sectors.

For Jenny, Southeast in general is her direction for "Vitality", and the Snake adds several nice qualities to this. And well, in this case, she might be clever and take the lead in bed, but to John´s advantage.
So it might be a perfect choice for the couple.

And I´ve included a drawing for the bed here, so you get a better understanding of what I really mean by aligning it with the appropriate direction.

The bed here is to scale in this example, and you can get this in a "real" consultation, where we can play around online with positioning till you are happy with the aesthetics, and I am happy with the theoretical consequences. That´s the beauty of using my own software in a consultation.

For your own copy of this manual however, please forget about the bed and measurements. Just give me the outline of the room, I´ll superimpose the graphic, and then you can play along with the furniture on your own.
Well, as said before, this is what you can get with the Diamond Edition. For the Emerald Edition you get the basic graphic, then you´ll have to do the rest yourself.

Your Bonus, if you have the Diamond Edition and ordered for a Couple:

Which qualities the persons bring to each other.

DIAMOND ONLY.

We can look at the Elements and the Blessings in what they mean with respect to the horoscope of the other person.

Output	Wealth	Wealth	Wealth
- wood	+ FIRE	+ FIRE	+ FIRE
Goat	Horse	Monkey	Tiger
Influence	Wealth	Resources	Output

Me for You & You for Me.

These are the Pillars for Jenny, but now with the qualities according to the Day stem of "Water" from John.

So we can say, that Jenny has a lot of "Wealth" in stock for John.

Wealth	Influence	Resources	Connections
- metal	+ WATER	- wood	+ FIRE
Pig	Horse	Goat	Tiger
Influence	Connections	Output	Resources

These are the Pillars for John, but now with the qualities according to the Day stem of "Fire" from Jenny.

Remember that Jenny was short of "Influence" in her own chart?
Luckily enough, John provides the elements needed for this by Jenny.

And we can do the same with the "Blessings".

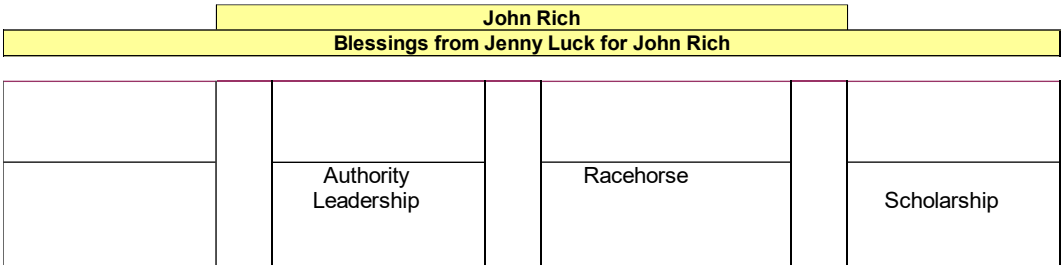
DIAMOND ONLY.

Jenny Luck
Blessings from John Rich for Jenny Luck
	Moon Blessings
Challenge Angel Blesssings	Authority Power	Calamity

(Copyright: A.W.Schoening)

The “Water” of John brings the “Moon Blessings” to Jenny, his “Pig” brings her “Angel Blessings” but also some “Challenge”, and it increases her “Bravery”, and so on.

Let´s do it the other way round:



The “Monkey” in the chart of Jenny grants the “Racehorse” to John, and it falls into his category of “Intuition” (just have a look at his Essential Qualities further up).

In this example we do not find a lot of additional qualities from one to the other, because they share three animal signs anyhow. But with other couples this kind of analysis can be very interesting – and help in understanding some aspects of the relationship, as well as help in exploring some treasures they hold for each other.

But well, “no rose without a thorn”, as the saying goes. So please remember this, should some sign of your partner mean “Calamity” for you (or the other way round). First, “Calamity” sometimes means “Blessing in disguise”. Second, there may be a lot of other superb Blessings which highly make up for this not so good one. And third, there may be other constellations in the chart which more or less annihilate this suspected negative effect.

Maybe better for you to understand, if I mention “Clashes” in a BaZi, which many people are afraid of (one sign is located at the other side of the compass, like “Horse” and “Rat”), either both as part of their own chart, or when encountering a clash to the own chart from some quality of time (a year, a day, a 10-year “luck cycle” etc.). Assume that one sign is kind of part of your own family, but always bringing you trouble. Then someone outside your family shows up and can bring it under control. Wouldn´t you rejoice?

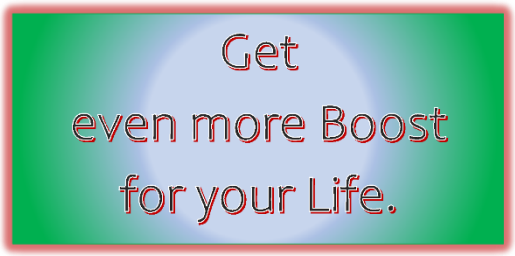
And if you want to take it even one step further:

Please consider taking my special offer "Me and My Space", to get even more Boost for Your Life.

The "Diamond Edition" of this Success Planner will be included to get you started.

Then I will personally take a deeper look into your BaZi and your floorplan, help you in understanding both better in what they mean for you, and I will provide recommendations to make the best of the situation at hand and move forward.

As you may have realized by now, my personal focus with consultations is a holistic view, combining various approaches to achieve solutions which really reflect the situation at hand, not any kind of "paint it red, because the direction is Northeast" stuff. You will learn a lot about yourself and about your space, and you will get actionable recommendations to help you move forward.



Personal consultations are done on site, if possible, or online via Zoom, so you can have your say on what´s feasible for you and where you strongly oppose some suggestion, for which reason ever – then we´ll have to find some other solution which makes both of us happy. Using the graphic and interactive capabilities of my own software, it´s fairly simple to show you alternatives, even moving furniture around within the floorplan. I´m sure you will like that, and you will be really motivated to get into action, apply the recommendations, and enjoy the results.

So just reach out to me by any of the contact details given. I´ll be happy to hear from you and to serve you – and be assured that creativity is one of my hallmarks, so whatever your question or situation, we´ll find a solution.

So, I trust that even with the recommendations in this Success Planner you will be able to get a boost for your life, but with a personal consultation you will get even more of this.

OK, as I give a very special price for that offer, time is limited, and it depends on your previous knowledge on how far we can get. Great prior knowledge: you can get advanced stuff, no prior knowledge: you will learn a lot about the basics.

And sure enough, after this session you can decide on whether you´re happy with implementing what you got, or whether there´s a lot more to learn and do, and then we can arrange on a follow-up consultation.

Ah, before I forget:

Hopefully you have learnt, that using the Success Planner in conjunction with your Personal Essentials Qualities helps a lot in maximizing the outcome of any specific task, when done at the appropriate time.
However, fully optimizing it, when it´s really important for you (like opening a shop, launching a website, getting married etc.), that requires some more in-depth analysis, and sure enough I´ll be happy to do that Dedicated Personal Date Selection for you.
Please provide some basic information, and then we can talk about a specific proposal for your needs.

And if you´re from a country not primarily English speaking, you may love the options in my tool to calculate the charts. You can give designations to Elements and Animal Signs in any language you want. So this might be more convenient when you show their BaZi to family and friends, not as fluent in English as yourself.
(By the way: As I´m German myself, almost everything is available in German also. Please see: http://GutesFengShui.de/ for a start.)

Well then, please let me thank you for your interest, and I wish you all the very best for your life. Would be great to talk to you in person soon.

Just a final note on how this document is prepared:

The basic data comes from my own software "Mystro", which is in use by me and colleagues internationally since many years. So you can really trust the results. Though, sure enough as always in life, the chance for errors cannot be completely excluded and no guarantee can be given.

But still, some things have to be done by hand, which is one reason, why I have to charge more than just a few Euro/Dollar. Second reason is, that in fact I trust, that the information provided here, intertwined on many levels, will be valuable as a "diamond" for you, compared to the "silver" of just basic data you may obtain elsewhere.

Then also a note for professionals please:

All the information provided here, you can get direct access to it for any of your clients, using my Hi-End Software "Mystro – My own Astro & Feng Shui".

It´s really outstanding in its flexibility and interactivity, servicing all schools I´ve come across so far. And if this or that method included in the software is new for you, then for sure I´ll be happy to teach you and coach you in applying it.
And in fact, it can be fun and accelerate success doing projects together, joining knowledge from various angles. So please get in touch, it you´d also see value in a wonderful cooperation.
